Tom:

As I informed you orally, I talked with a Miss Brennan on the Council on Foreign Relations regarding Guido Goldman's letter to the Director. I told her of the Director's interest in making two nominations to the Council. I am quite sure that Miss Brennan must have gathered from our conversation that the nominees would be Agency personnel.

Both of these individuals are known to me personally and I believe their membership on the Council would broaden their professional horizons and give them an opportunity to exchange expertise and opinions on a wide variety of foreign policy issues with other professional scholars.

I would be pleased to furnish any additional information you wish.

Sincerely,

W
